

Together, we can work toward a world with fewer barriers to cancer care

Every day we see new treatments, more patients, and constantly evolving treatment barriers that may prevent patients from accessing the care they need.

The AstraZeneca Oncology Care & Access (OC&A) team is committed to working with healthcare providers to navigate these complexities and ensure patients with cancer receive high-quality, evidence-based care.

Our mission is to provide support for cancer treatment across the patient journey

As the OC&A team, we help with:

Identifying patients

Facilitating use of the latest precision medicine by educating providers on the importance of biomarker testing and patient identification

Navigating barriers to care

Focusing on identifying and navigating barriers to treatment by building thoughtful partnerships, engaging policymakers in insightful discussions, and helping patients access and afford their treatments

Educating peer-to-peer

Supporting optimal outcomes by providing evidence-based, peer-to-peer nurse education throughout a patient's journey on an AstraZeneca medication

Our partnership will make a real difference in the lives of patients with cancer.
